World Entrepreneurship Day 2022 A day to celebrate "hard work and success"

When you think about it, the world is crammed with great products that most people tend to take for granted now, but that were once non-existent. That is, until they were somehow dreamed up by a budding and creative entrepreneur. Or, perhaps, the inventions somehow existed, but they did not take off until they were marketed by a clever business person.

"Have the courage to follow your heart and intuition."

"They somehow know what you truly want to become"

The national consumer Day or Bharatija Granhaat Dinna is celebrated every year on December 24 with an aim to spread awareness about consumer rights and the power of a consumer. In India, to keep the integrity of consumers and protect them from malpractices, a set of rights is conferred to every citizen under the consumer protection Act.

In 1986, the consumer protection Bill was passed by both the House of parliament. The Bill received the assent of the president on December 24, 1986, and came into force. Thus, to commemorate the importance of the day, December 24 is marked as national consumer Day.
