Tata Files

Jehangir Ratanji Dadabhoy Tata

JRD Tata pioneered civil aviation in the subcontinent in 1932 when he launched Tata Airlines. But that was only one of many path-breaking achievements of JRD, who guided the destiny of the Tata group for more than half a century.

J. R. D. Tata, in full "Jehangir Ratanji Dadabhai Tata (born July 29, 1904, Paris France - died November 29, 1993, Geneva, Switzerland) Indian businessman and aviation pioneer who created India's first airline and oversaw the dramatic expansions of the Tata Group India's largest industrial empire.

Tata was born into one of the India's wealthiest families, but his mother was French and he spent much of his childhood in France. As a result, French was his first language. It was while on a summer vacation that he first met aviation pioneer Louis Blériot and the encounter kindled an interest in aircraft that eventually became a lifelong passion eventually became a life long studying. In France, Japan and England, Tata served in the France army for a year.

He had planned to study engineering at the university of Cambridge but was compelled to return to India to assume his role in the Tata family business in 1925. Established in 1868 by Tata's great-grandfather, the Tata Group was one of the Indian's largest business conglomerates.

Under his guidance, several institutions were established to promote scientific, medical and artistic endeavours in India. These included the Tata Institute of Fundamental Research, Tata Memorial Hospital, the Tata Institute of Social Science, the National Institute of Advanced Science and the National Centre for the Performing Arts.

Sachin Bansal
Co-Founder, Ex-CEO | Flipkart

Sachin
Bansal

It has almost been four years since Sachin Bansal formally gave up all leadership responsibilities of Flipkart, yet he is still dealing with eight lawsuits related to his tenure at e-commerce titan.

The draft red herring prospectus (DRHP) of Navi Technologies, Bansal's latest entrepreneurial venture, revealed that there are currently thirteen lawsuits and litigations filed by or against the 40-year old. While some of these matters are related to Bansal's personal life, others are all around his stint at Flipkart.

The notice was also sent to investors Accel Tiger Global, Accel nominee director Lee Fixel, who had invested in Flipkart before it was acquired by Walmart in 2018.

In response, Sachin Bansal filed a writ petition before Madras High Court in August to challenge the show cause notice.

There are six matters where petitions have been filed against Flipkart between 2015 to 2021, where Bansal has been made a party due to his past associations with Flipkart. The DRHP read "our promoter has not received any notice or summons nor has any access currently to any information pertaining to these matters" if further added.

US retail giant Walmart had acquired Flipkart for a whopping 16 billion. In exchange for 77% stake in the e-commerce giant, in May 2018, Sachin Bansal had exited the company soon after the acquisition, whereas Binny Bansal still holds around 2.4% in the company...

"Kunal Shah Wiki"

Age :- Born on 20th May 1983,

Profession :- Founder @ CRED

Networth :- 809 Million (as of 2022)

Education :- Bachelor's of degree at Mumbai.

* Entrepreneur - turned - angel investor Kunal Shah is known by numerous names. He is the unconventional risk-taker who has so far been successful in launching multiple "start up India".

Kunal decided at the age of 16 that he would put in a lot of effort and by the time he turned 35, he would be so wealthy that he would no longer need to work for a living.

Kunal planned to pursue either engineering or medicine after graduating from high school, but because of a part-time job, he was.

unable to concentrate on his academics and was therefore unable to enrol in either field.

He decided to pursue a B.A in philosophy.

Kunal used to hawk mehendi cones and illegal music CDs while he was college to cover his tuition costs.

As a programmer, Kunal worked for a start up named dot-com in 2000.

Sadly, this start up failed, thus he eventually joined an another startup called Net 4 pharma

Then, he enrolled in part-time MBA programme at Mumbai's Narsee Monjee Institute of Management studies (NMIMS) in 2003 but left after a few semesters.

After ending the paisaBalk promotional discount campaign in August 2010 alongside Sandeep Tandon, Kunal created the company "Freecharge" serving as its CEO until October 2016.

His motivation for creating Freecharge was to make it possible for individuals to top off their phones online at a time...

When most Indians were still doing so through offline retailers. Customers were offered free vouchers from reputable brand like KFC, Barista pvr cinema, and more if they completed an online bill payment or recharge. The concept capitalised on the word "Free"

Many firms benefited from the concept and Freecharge was highlighted on reputable websites like Rediff, The Hindu, and ET Now to create their success story...

Sequoia capital invested 200 million INR in series A capital, which accelerated the company business operations they very next year. It stated that it generated roughly INR 2.1 billion in revenue in 2012...

DEEPINDER GOYAL

Founder & CEO at Zomato

READ NOW

Deepinder Goyal,

He took the decision as Blinkit a company owned by Zomato - has decided to enter the home services category, which is the core business of Urban Company. Goyal was appointed as the independent director on the company's board in March, 2022.

Blinkit, the company bought by Zomato for 568 million, is already offering home chef services through a company called Chef Kart.

As of now, there has been no official statement from the company in this regard. Zomato, the company founded by Goyal, logged a loss of Rs 396.6 crore in the December 2022 quarter. However, despite the loss Goyal thinks he can make Zomato a billion dollar plus company in the next 7 to 8 years.

He recently said Zomato wants to continue to stay focused on the long-term growth goals without worrying much about near-term growth pressures.

"Deepinder Goyal" started Zomato in 2008. He currently holds a 5.5 percent stake in the company. He diluted his shares from 7.7 percent in 2020 to 5.5 percent in 2022. Goyal was born in Punjab. His parents were teachers. He graduated from IIT Delhi in 2005 with a degree in Mathematics and Computing. He was working for Bain and Company in national capital.

Goyal also used to earn hefty salary in 2020. He used to earn over Rs 3 crore per annum. The salary dropped to '1.96 crore' in FY 21. He later said he won't accept salaries for the next year. Three Zomato CTO Gunjan Patidar earns a salary package of Rs 3.2 crore. The company's food delivery CEO Rahul Ganjoo earns a package of Rs '2.9 crore'.

He donated his ESOP proceeds worth Rs 700 crore to Zomato Foundation that work for the benefits of the company's delivery partners.
