1.1 INTRODUCTION

The Consumer Protection Act, 1986 was enacted the very next year of adoption of the United Nations Guidelines on Consumer Protection in 1985. This Act was passed to provide for better protection of the interests of consumers and for the purpose of making provisions for establishment of consumer protection councils and other authorities for the settlement of consumer disputes, etc. Although the working of the consumer dispute redressal agencies has served the purpose to a considerable extent under the said Act, the disposal of cases has not been fast due to various constraints. Several shortcomings have also been noticed while administering the various provisions of the said Act.

At the same time, consumer markets for goods and services have undergone drastic transformation since the enactment of the Consumer Protection Act in 1986. The modern market place contains a plethora of complex products and services. The emergence of global supply chains, rise in international trade and the rapid development of e-commerce have led to new delivery systems for goods and services and have provided new options and opportunities for consumers. Equally, this has rendered the consumer vulnerable to new forms of unfair trade and unethical business practices. Misleading advertisements, tele-marketing, multi-level marketing, direct selling and e-commerce posed new challenges to consumer protection and therefore, it became imperative to amend the Act to address the myriad and constantly emerging vulnerabilities of the consumers.

Therefore, a need was felt to amend the Act to address the myriad and constantly emerging vulnerabilities of the consumers. In view of this, the Consumer Protection Bill, 2019 was mooted and after passage by both the Houses, it got the assent of the President on 09.08.2019. However, the Consumer Protection Act, 2019 is yet to be notified by the Government. The new law seeks to repeal the Act of 1986 and overhaul the existing redressal system with a view to modernize it. It is therefore necessary for the academia to deliberate upon the newly passed Act and understand its new features especially the establishment of an executive agency i.e., the Central Consumer Protection Authority (CCPA), inclusion for product liability, mediation, electronic mode of complaints filing and several other new provisions which appear promising and create a great hope for betterment of conditions of consumers and protection of their interests.

Consumer rights cannot be seen from narrow prism of consumer law only; they must be studied in the context of various other legislations and policies which make the consumer rights meaningful. Therefore, there is a need to also understand the role of other laws and regulatory bodies including that of market regulator i.e. Competition Commission of India (CCI) in protecting consumer interests and other sectoral regulators including Food Safety Regulator i.e. FSSAI, TRAI, SEBI, IRDAI etc.

Objectives

The Certificate Course is aimed at building capacities of the participants by offering them a sound theoretical grounding of consumer law as well as practice.

1. To build an in-depth understanding of consumer movement in India and its different phases
2. To build capacity of the participants in dealing with the new age challenges such as e-commerce under the consumer law regime
3. To conduct Case Studies of landmark decisions

1.1 INTRODUCTION:

Mehndi is a skin decoration usually drawn on hands or legs using a paste created from the powdered dry leaves of the henna plant. Mehndi is often used to celebrate momentous occasions especially weddings. Mehndi cools down and calms the mind of brides and grooms from all the wedding stress and anxiety.

OBJECTIVES OF MEHNDI DESIGNING:

1. To practice Mehndi designs by creating simple and amazing bridal, Arabic and Indian designs.
2. To enable the students to get self-employment.

SKILLS TO BE PROVIDED:

Mehndi art is one of the most creative aspects of the beauty industry. The course helps to explore various styles and motifs by using mehndi. In this course candidates will also learn to make their own mehndi paste. Because, ready to use mehndi paste might contain harmful chemicals that can cause allergic reactions to the skin. So, to prepare their own mehndi paste is safe to use. Mehndi designing is an exciting course, which offers endless opportunities to explore one's artistic skills.

SELF EMPLOYMENT:

1. Can start mehndi designing in their own beauty parlor or attend on customers directly
2. Can prepare mehndi paste/ mehndi cones / mehndi designing books and start selling them to customers
3. Can open private mehndi classes
