Reflections on Seminar

A Seminar on "Professional Skills Development of English" on report writing was organized successfully meeting all its objectives:

1. It has provided an opportunity to the faculty of other departments in the college to correct and enhance their English Language skills in Report writing.
2. Commerce department faculty has got benefited with "Business Report writing" particularly.

Impressions:

A few staff members have given ~~over~~ satisfied impressions on the Seminar and its purpose, that it was quite useful for them in higher education to equip themselves with writing skills in English. All of them have grasped and noted the correct writing of Report in academic works and Journals.

PAAC in association with the Department of English has organized a two day Programme on "Professional Development Skills on 'Indianism' and 'Etiquette and Grooming'.

Day II

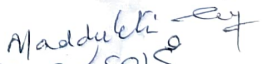

1. "Etiquette and Grooming" by M. SAMANTH ^{PLD}
2. "Indianism" by K.A. Uma Devi
3. Feed back by participants
4. Validictory function.

Reflections Response from the Faculty members

Importance of Etiquette and Grooming

Every organisation or institution expects its faculty members to be well groomed, presentable with good mannerisms and behaviour. Lack of these will lead to poor image in front of the student.

Response after the Seminar

The faculty members were very happy to get enlightened with the importance of Etiquette and Grooming.

They realized that how mannerisms, politeness, hygiene, dressing and the way to conduct themselves in Professional Setting, Professionalism adds Key to one's Success.

Faculty members have understood the Indian local language influence on English speaking of Indians. Specially faculty in higher Education Institutions its very much useful knowing the right usage of words and statements in communication. All the faculty expressed their contentment about all the topics.
