

Government Degree College

FALAKNUMA, Hyderabad

Dept. of Political Science

Best practice 2021-2022

Career guidance

Political Science is a branch of social science which teaches a student about the state, global politics and government. Not only in India, but this course is one of the most opted courses around the globe as well. Political Science deals with the working of the state, government, various agencies, and how one can use the theoretical knowledge about one's country in the real or practical world for the betterment of the same.

In Political Science, subjects cover the general news you hear on the news, be it national and international. Subjects in BA in Political Science includes cover topics such as Indian Politics, Major Governments of the World, Public Administration, Nationalism in India, International Relations, International Politics and Public Policy etc.

- Studying Political science enables one to deepen his/her understanding of policies and laws of the land. Apart from the fact that a political science degree holder has a lot of opportunities in terms of employment, they can also pursue a bright career if they opt for higher studies.
- Studying Political science enables one to deepen his/her understanding of policies and laws of the land. Apart from the fact that a political science degree holder has a lot of opportunities in terms of employment, they can also pursue a bright career if they opt for higher studies.
- Political science has many branches and sub-branches; majorly it includes topics like state politics, political economy, comparative politics, political philosophy and international relations.\
- There are job opportunities for Political science graduate in different government offices and in private sector organizations as well. However, it is advised to go for higher studies as it brightens the chances of getting jobs.
- Demand for political science experts are high in multiple fields. They can go on to pursue careers in journalism, education, law, communications, government, business, politics, etc.

Career Options and Jobs

After graduating one can look for jobs in both government (public) and private sector. In the public sector one can look for jobs in the fields of:

Civil Services (Indian Administrative Services, Indian Foreign Services)	Bank Manager/Clerk
Journalism	Political Scientist
Secretary to various government departments and agencies	Election and Campaign Manager
Political content developer	Teacher
NGO	Policy Analyst
Legislative Assistant	Public Relations Specialist
Social Media Manager	Marketing Research Analyst
Political Consultant	Attorney
Intelligence Analyst	Public Opinion Analyst
Communications Director	Corporate Manager
Survey Analyst	Foreign Service Officer
Human Rights Activists	Legal Adviser to Political Parties

You can always go for a Masters in Political Science after that you are eligible to sit for the NET exam which opens other opportunities like Assistant Professor in colleges.

Faculty:
Dr. S. Sharwani, HoD.

 Principal
 Govt. Degree College
 Falaknuma, Hyderabad.