Computer Literacy Day

Every year on December 2, people worldwide celebrate World Computer Literacy Day. This day is observed to promote digital literacy, particularly among girls and young people. Even though the world is moving towards a more digital future, some facets of society still have either very little or no access to the internet. Computer Literacy Day is a day to celebrate computers, but it's also a day to promote computer literacy across the board. The day is celebrated on 02.12.2021.

World Environment Day: 06/06/2022

World Environment Day is an annual event that is celebrated on June 5th each year to raise awareness and promote action for the protection of the environment. As such, preparing a document for World Environment Day should focus on highlighting the significance of the day, and outlining ways to contribute to the protection of the environment.

Some important topics to cover in a World Environment Day document may include:

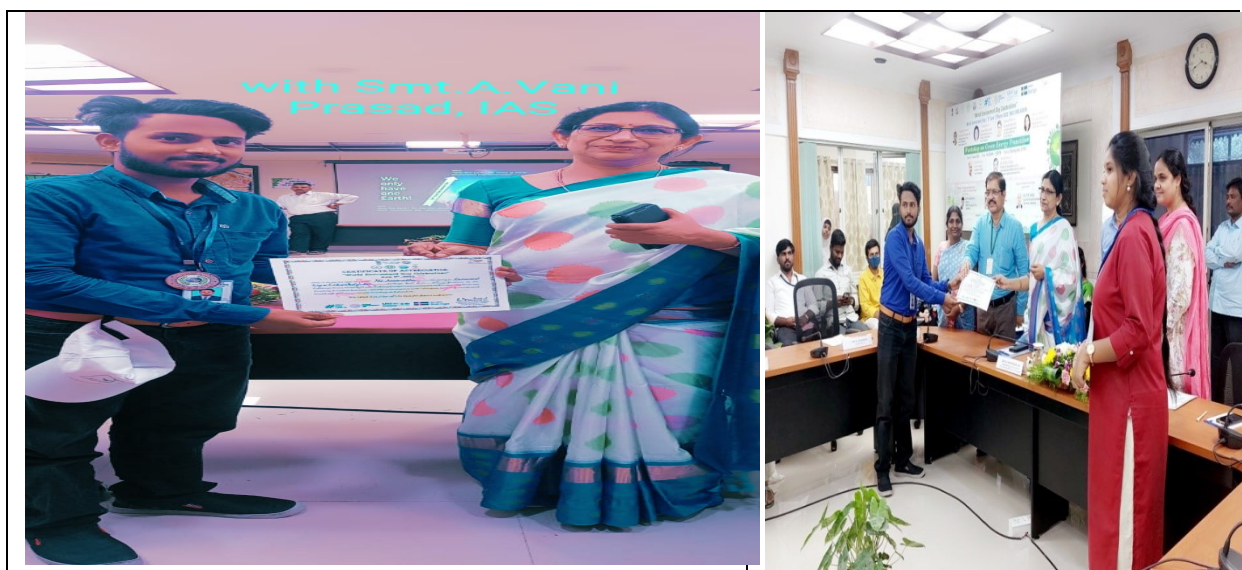

1. The importance of environmental protection: Highlight the role that the environment plays in sustaining life on earth, and the negative impacts that human activities can have on the environment.
2. Current environmental issues: Outline some of the pressing environmental issues that the world is facing today, such as climate change, deforestation, pollution, and loss of biodiversity.
3. Actions to protect the environment: Provide practical advice on steps that individuals and communities can take to reduce their impact on the environment, such as reducing energy consumption, recycling, and using public transportation.
4. Promoting sustainable development: Discuss the importance of promoting sustainable development practices that balance economic growth with environmental protection.
5. Advocating for policy change: Highlight the need for policy change at the local, national, and international levels to protect the environment, and urge readers to advocate for policy changes that support environmental protection.
