

BA Political Science

Programme Specific Outcome

This discipline of Political Science has witnessed a large – scale induction of new paradigms, concepts, approaches and even orientations in the recent times. This newly developments have rescued Political Science from narrow base and has equipped it with enlarge capabilities to analyze and comprehend. Indeed of all Social Sciences the Political Science has certainly extended its boundaries and has enriched its contents. It determined to develop and refine the tools, techniques and methods of research. It seeks to explain the substantive and methodological revolutions that have been adopted in the discipline. Keeping this as background, the programme offers varies courses in enhancing the students understanding of Politics, state, Government, democracy, development, the role of civil society, Political parties, social movements and ideologies from a comparative perspective. They understand of the constitution and its Institutions in their historical and contemporary context. These courses seek to examine the diversity of Political systems in contemporary world and have been oriented to capture the current debates. It integrates what is conventionally taught and has been re-oriented to capture the current debates on working of the Institutions in order to be sensitive to the changing of Political Systems and the dynamics of the Institutions as a whole. It makes the students with an objective of exploring in detail, all the Institutional issues in Political Science. It is intended to meet the requirements of the P.G. level students and will be equally useful to those students who are interested in acquiring a core Knowledge of fast expanding discipline of Political Science.

Programme Outcome

The Student, after completing the programme the student will be able to

1. Excel in academics, research and well being of the society
2. Grab the opportunity of the employment ranging from local to global
3. Apply the acquired knowledge to the betterment of the society
4. Make use of Modern tools, techniques and methods in research
5. Acquire the leadership qualities for the just politics and formulation of best public policies
6. Become a responsible human being of the society and to emerge as a Global citizen
7. To address the various issues of human rights

Programme : B.Com

General management subjects taught provides basic conceptual and practical knowledge required to work efficiently in industry. These subjects enable the students coming from different graduation streams to understand the working and management of business. The Course offers three main specializations; each consisting of six subjects taught in 3rd and 4th semesters:

1. Human Resource (HR)

Students of HRM will be able to possess the skill set required by today's HR professionals ☐ Students are enabled make an appropriate staffing decision which includes recruitment and selection ☐ They will be able to design, implement and evaluate training programmes ☐ Students are empowered to understand HR compensation subjects including employee benefits, incentives and regulations governing ☐ They will be able to apply the policies and practices governing the undertaking

2. Financial –

Students will be able to acquire skills such as ☐ The ability and confidence to tackle common practical financial problems of business. ☐ Evaluation of economic condition and relating them to financial decision in the organization. ☐ Current taxation systems.

3. Marketing:

Students will be able to ☐ Understand the dynamics of marketing in business ☐ Apply the theoretical marketing concepts to the practical situations ☐ Demonstrate the ability to carry out a market research projects ☐ To communicate unique marketing mixes and selling propositions for specific products ☐ Construct written sales plans and professional interactive presentations The course outcomes are prepared for each course (each subject) after giving due consideration to the syllabus prescribed by the Palamuru University.

B.Sc Programme outcomes:-

The student after completing this programme, will be able to

1. Design solutions for complex problems and design system components, processes to meet the specifications with consideration for the public health and safety, and the cultural, societal, and environmental considerations.
2. Use research-based knowledge including design of experiments, analysis and interpretation of data, and synthesis of the information to provide valid conclusions
3. Understand the impact of the professional scientific solutions in societal and environmental contexts, and demonstrate the knowledge of, and need for sustainable development.
4. Function effectively as an individual, and as a member or leader in teams, and in multidisciplinary settings.
5. Recognize the need for, and have the preparation and ability to engage in independent and lifelong learning in the broadest context of technological change.

Program Specific outcomes:

Upon completion of the M.Sc. Organic Chemistry students will:

1. Able to design, carry out, record and analyze the results of chemical experiments.
2. Able to use modern instrumentation and classical techniques, to design experiments, and to properly record the results of their experiment.
3. Be skilled in problem solving, critical thinking and analytical reasoning.
4. Know and follow the proper procedures and regulations for safe handling and usage of chemicals under various conditions while performing the experiments.
5. Understand the ethical, historic, philosophical, and environmental dimensions of problems and issues facing chemists.
6. Able to get into professional employment or doctoral studies in the area of synthetic Organic chemistry