Teacher's Self Analysis Report on student's views on teacher's performance

Our college has made an effort to assess the student feedback on teacher.

I continually evaluate my performance as a teacher. This enables me to refine , modify and change my instruction to meet the needs of my students throughout the year. This is vital to the success of my teaching because the needs of my students change, and I need to change with them. I use feedback from my students to evaluate my performance as a teacher

In order to analyze the lag areas of the teacher's teaching for further improvement, feedback from students has been received. We have taken feedback randomly from 10 Students from B.Com students during the academic year 2017-18

The feedback consists of as many as 20 questions on various aspects of teacher's performance like regularity, class preparation, guidance and mentoring etc. In order to arrive to comprehensive result useful statistical tools like percentage has been used for the effective presentation of the data.

As per the tables of scores it is observed that, in only 15% of areas, the teacher is in-between good and very good and in the remaining 85% of areas the teacher is very good and excellent.

Student feedback is most excellent source for self-evaluation. As I reflect on this source, I am able to determine how I need to refine my instruction. As a teacher, I realize I can never stay the same methods, same strategies and same teaching plans. I need to constantly strive to develop excellent instruction. Self-evaluation is an excellent method to reflect on my teaching and learn from my experiences.
