CCTV

The increase in security threats across the world has facilitated the introduction of technology to assist in maintaining peace. College is using surveillance systems such as Closed Circuit Television (CCTV) to enhance safety precautions to the stakeholders. A CCTV is a surveillance system that consists of cameras, recorders and displays for monitoring activities. Installation of CCTVs around the college has resulted in considerable amount of safety and security.