English News Paper reading for improving Vocabulary in English

Date: 15/7/2018

Francis Bacon, a well known essayist says 'Reading makes a man, conference makes a ready man, and writing makes an exact man.' A keen observation of the hobbies of the students reveals that with the advancement of technology, reading hobby has been declining for the last a few years. Reading books and English news paper are very helpful in developing not only one's knowledge but also English language. English news paper is a very powerful tool to master English language. There are various instances of people acquiring mastery of English language by reading English news paper.

To inculcate the habit of reading English news paper among the students we have organized 'English News Paper Reading Day' in the college. The students were supplied The Hindu news papers. Each student was instructed to keep their note books open. They are instructed to make a note of unknown words, idioms, and phrases, and impressive expressions they come across while reading a column of the news paper. They are asked to explain as to what they understand about the meaning of the words, idioms, phrases, and expressions on the basis of the context. Then their real meanings are explained. All the other students are asked to make a note of it. Ultimately it is observed that they, all together have acquired a number of unknown words. It is resolved to adopt this practice on daily basis in digital classroom.

SPELL-BEE CONTEST

2017-18

It is observed that the students of the college are very poor in writing the correct spelling of English words. Keeping this in view the department of English has resolved to conduct 'Spell-Bee' contest for the students to overcome the problem of misspelling the English words. Spell-Bee contest is a noted contest conducted in USA every year to encourage the students towards correct spelling of words. If a word is mis-spelt, it is likely to an adverse impact in the learning process.

Commonly mis-spelt words like: endeavour, bureaucracy, tuition, collaboration, committee, commission, entrepreneur, etc.

1. Title of the Practice: SIE (Speak in English)
2. Objective of the Practice: To enable all the stakeholders to communicate effectively in English.
3. The Context: To improve the standards of communication skills in English
4. The Practice: It is an initiative taken by department of English to improve skills of communication in which teachers and students wear badges of SIE, which initiates conversation in English. Students and teachers who practice good English are encouraged by giving best speaker badges as well as gifts. English debates are also conducted periodically to reduce stress and stage fear.
5. Evidence of Success: All the stakeholders putting their best efforts to communicate with one another without any shy. Slowly it has turned to be a habit of speaking in English.
6. Problems encountered and resources required: Still some of the students and faculty members are not coming forward to join the group. For them some orientation classes are being conducted by the Dept. of English. Financial assistance is required to establish a language laboratory.

TODAY'S QUOTE/TODAY'S WORD 2020-21

As part of the BEST PRACTICES adopted by the Department of English, 'Today's Quote/Today's Word' programme is launched at the college. It is widely known that vocabulary is the nucleus of a language. English language is not different. There is beauty in language. The aesthetic beauty of the language is known only to a few. The beauty of English language is grasped through understanding the meaning of interesting quotes and their application in daily situations. It is noted that students are very poor in knowing the meaning of commonly used vocabulary in English.

To inculcate the habit of remembering interesting quotations which have a very deep meaning, it is resolved to organize a programme titled 'Quote of the Day' and 'Word of the Day' on daily basis. Every day, students are motivated to come to the digital classroom beyond the regular schedule of the classes. They are asked to write at least one quote and one new English word daily. Their writing is followed by explanation of the quote and the meaning and usage of the new words.

VOCABULARY QUIZ

Learning of English is a challenge to most of the students coming from rural background. It is observed that most of the students are very poor in vocabulary. Vocabulary is the nucleus of English language. To enrich vocabulary among the students, The Department of English has decided to conduct a Vocabulary Quiz to the students. As an experiment a Vocabulary quiz is conducted for the students of the college. About fifty students participated in the competition. They were divided into four teams. Each team consists of four students. Each team is given some words and asked to give their meanings. Active participation of the students is observed. It has helped them improve vocabulary for enriching their English language.

STUDENT SEMINAR for Second Year Students

Active participation of the students in the learning process is an important aspect. Various activities can be taken up to involve them in the learning process. Participation of the students in seminars is one such activity. To develop this skill, the Department of English has resolved to conduct student-seminars. The selected students were given a topic for presentation. They were guided as to how to present the topic before the other students. The activity is conducted for the students of B.Sc.II year. It is noticed that the participation of the students in the seminars has helped them overcome stage fear and hone their language skills.

Rabindranath Tagore:

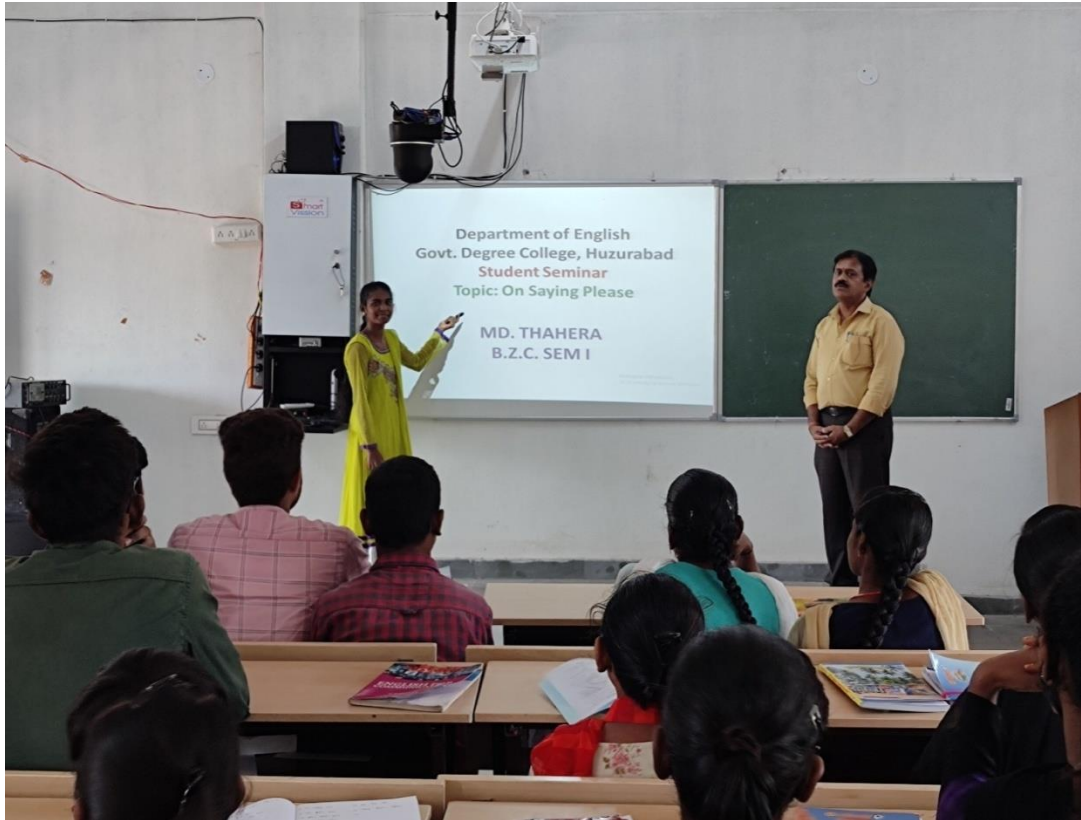

Rabindranath Tagore (1861-1941) was the youngest son of Debendranath Tagore, a leader of the Brahmo Samaj, which was a new religious sect in nineteenth-century Bengal and which attempted a revival of the ultimate monistic basis of Hinduism as laid down in the Upanishads. He was educated at home; and although at seventeen he was sent to England for formal schooling, he did not finish his studies there.

Student Seminar for First Year Students

A cursory observation of the students of Government Degree unveils the fact that they are caught in the web of fear and tension to exhibit their knowledge in their respective subjects and English. It is an undeniable fact that involuntary readiness to come on to the dais is the only powerful tool to overcome the fear. The Department of English has resolved to organize student seminars to help them overcome this fear in a regular mode. After the completion of every session in the classroom at least one student is motivated to come on to the stage and express his response on what is taught in the classroom. A briefing about the importance of seminars is explained to them collectively and individually. They are encouraged to participate in seminars and conferences.

As there is a dire need of furthering the presentation skills of the students Student seminars are organized on behalf of the Department of English. They are organized for the students of various groups like B.Sc., B.Com, and B.A.

Orientation to Faculty on 'Communication Skills in English'

Erroneous English language is observed in most of the formal situations today, whether it be oral or written communication. Though most of the faculty members of the college are highly qualified and one of the best in their respective subjects, their expression in English language is found to be unsatisfactory. On request from the faculty members, The Department of English has come forward to conduct an orientation on 'Communication Skills in English' to the faculty members of the college. The nuances of English language were explained by eliciting often-made errors in most of the formal situations right from the presentation of the subject orally to presenting it in a written mode.

Realizing the significance of Communication skills for them the Department of English conducted an orientation programme to them on 19/2/2019. About 15 faculty members including teaching and non-teaching participated actively and responded that it yielded fruitful results.
