II. Read the passage and answer the questions given at the end.

It is simple enough to say that since books have classes – fiction, biography, poetry – we should separate them and take from each what it is right that each should give us. Yet few people ask from books what books can give us. Most commonly we come to books with blurred and divided minds, asking of fiction that it shall be true, of poetry that it shall be false, of biography that it shall be flattering, of history that it shall enforce our own prejudices.

- What classes do the books divided into?
Ans: _____
- How do we come to books?
Ans: _____
- What preconceptions do the readers have about books?

The Right to Information Act is known as RTI. It is a revolutionary Act of the Parliament of India to make available for Indian citizens, in order to ensure transparency in governance. It is a substitute for the recent Freedom of Information Act, 2002. RTI can be called a 'Gateway to the citizenry' for the quick search of information. Under it provisions of the Act, any citizen of India may demand information from a 'Public Authority', which is required to answer inside 30 days. The Act likewise requires each public authority to preserve records for wide distribution and to proactively ascertain classifications of data. This law was passed by the Parliament on 15 June 2005. It came completely into power on 12 October 2005. More than 3.2 crore RTI applications have been documented since then. Aruna Roy is the leader of the Right to Information Movement. It is a legal right for all Indian citizen. The essential object of the Right to Information Act is to empower the citizens and bring transparency in to the workings of the Government.

All government organizations, regardless of whether they are under a state government or the Centre, fall under the purview of the Act. Twenty-odd organizations are clearly exempted from the RTI such as RAW, BSE, CRPF, CISE, the Intelligence Bureau, National Security Guard, etc. Each government organisation is expected to choose an representative as a Public Information Officer (PIO). It is the responsibility of the PIO to provide the information to the applicant within 30 days. Neglecting to do so mean a financial fine can be forced on the PIO. People who want information through RTI need to use a court fee stamp of Rs 10. Those who come under the 'Below Poverty Line (BPL)' classification need not pay this fee for filing an RTI, but all who want to receive copies of records from government offices will need to pay Rs 2 per page.

- Answer the following questions.
1. Who is the leader of the 'Right to Information Movement'?
 2. What is the Act mentioned in the paragraph?
 3. According to the paragraph, what is the main objective of implementing RTI?
 4. How many organisations are exempted from RTI?
 5. Whose duty is it to give the information to the applicant?

Bonalu Festival

The festival of Bonalu has become one of the official Hindu festivals of newly formed Telangana State. This is mainly celebrated in the twin cities of Hyderabad, Secunderabad and also in some parts of the state. The Goddess Mahankali and various incarnations of Shakti as, Mysamma, Muthyalamma, Pochamma, Yellamma and Peddamma are worshipped in this festival on a great scale. This is observed generally on the Sundays in Ashada/Masam, in the months of July or August every year. The name Bonam itself is derived from the word Bojanam that means meal or food offered to the Goddess.

The devotees prepare rice cooked with the milk and jaggery in a new brass or earthen pot. It is adorned with the neem leaves and lighted lamp on the top of it. They make a procession to the temple by carrying the pots on their heads along with a new sari, bangles, turmeric and vermilion to offer Bonalu to the Mother Goddess.

It is believed that the festival is celebrated to ward off the diseases and usher in 'good health, peace and prosperity. This festival is supposed to have begun in 1869 when plague broke out in the twin cities. Then the people wanted to appease Mother Goddess whose anger was considered to be the cause for the epidemic. This is specially celebrated in Ujjain Mahankali Mandir, Lal Darwaza, Secunderabad for three days with great pomp and gaiety. The festival concludes with the immersion of Ghatam on the third and final day whereas the second day is celebrated as

It is simple enough to say that since books have classes - fiction, biography, poetry - we should separate them and take from each what it is right that each should give us. Yet few people ask from books what books can give us. Most commonly we come to books with blurred and divided minds, asking of fiction that it shall be true, of poetry that it shall be false, of biography that it shall be flattering, of history that it shall enforce our own prejudices.

- What classes do the books divided into?
 Ans: _____
- How do we come to books?

 Malavath Pooma, a young girl from Nizamabad district, enjoys the distinction of being the youngest woman to climb Mount Everest, the highest peak in the world. She was less than fourteen years old when she accomplished this feat on 25th May 2014. Her feat is all the more remarkable as she is a tribal girl belonging to a humble background. Her parents are farm labourers. Pooma was accompanied on her expedition by S. Anand Kumar, a 16 year old boy from Khammam district. Pooma and Anand are students of the Telangana Social Welfare Residential Education Society. The youngsters carried with them photographs of B.R. Ambedkar and S.R. Sankaran, a former I.A.S officer who devoted his life to the upliftment of the marginalized sections of society.

Incidentally, the fourth week of May 2014 marked the 61st anniversary of the conquest of Mount Everest. It was on 29th May 1953 that Edmund Hillary from New Zealand and Tenzing Norgay — the first men to climb this highest peak — from Nepal reached the summit of Everest. Since then more than 4000 people have reached the peak.

- i. Who accompanied Pooma on the expedition?
- ii. Where were the two youngsters studying at that time?
- iii. What did they carry with them the top of the world?
- iv. Who climbed Mount Everest for the first time and when?
