“Awareness on Seasonal Diseases, Sanitation and Superstitions”

It has been remarkably noticed among the people in the villages that they are wilfully switching over to the healthy habits, cultivation of hygienic food habits, rational thinking and adaptation of awareness with regard to the seasonal diseases as the epitomic example in Gambhiraopet and surroundings - the parents who are bringing their small children to drop them at KG building (Anganwadi Kendram) have been found evidently as example that they are implementing the healthy and hygienic measures with regard to their children including the servant maids who are appointed as the care takers of such children away from seasonal diseases which ultimately and eventually proved as the successful result of HEI's campaign on seasonal diseases, sanitation and superstitions.
