

BEST PRACTICES OF THE DEPARTMENT

The college has a number of best practices. However, the department of Commerce has two best practices namely offering Bridge courses to Non-Commerce Students, Certificate Courses.

Practice 1: Title of the practice: Offering Bridge courses to Non-Commerce students.

Bridge courses are conducted to B.Com first year students in order to bridge the gap between the Commerce and the Non-Commerce students.

Objective: To explain basic concepts on the subjects to B.com I year students on the subjects with a view to understand the Accounting and Commerce subjects easily.

Practice 2: Title of the practice: Certificate Courses Certificate courses are provided to B.Com(CA) students in order to impart learning of B.com(General) course subjects which are not covered in B.com(C.A) course subjects like Business Economics, it is compulsory for every B.com(CA) student to complete certificate course

Objective: To offer B.Com (General) course subjects which are not covered in B.com (CA) course.
