4. Employer Feedback: 2022-2023

The N.T.R Government Degree College for Women has gathered feedback from employers who have hired our students in 2022-2023. This feedback includes evaluations of their technical skills, ability to work in teams, their response to challenging situations and their participation in corporate social responsibility activities. This data was collected with the goal of improving the learning environment by implementing best practices. Ultimately, this initiative benefits the student community in their respective work environments. This aims to identify the institution's strengths and weaknesses, and appropriate measures to be taken based on the feedback to make necessary improvements. The feedback was collected using an offline mode, with the feedback form being distributed to the employers.
