MKR GOVERNMENT DEGREE COLLEGE DEVARAKONDA
FEEDBACK ANALYSIS REPORT
2016-17

Feedback is very crucial and integral element of teaching-learning process. The college has a continuous teaching -learning evaluation mechanism through a process of feedback collection and analysis as a part of IQAC. Feedback is obtained from all the stakeholders of the institution, viz. Students, Parents and alumni as well as the teachers. All the feedbacks are administered through a questionnaire. The questions range from curriculum design, delivery, methodology, evaluation, use of ICT and infrastructure. The students are not required to disclose their identity anywhere in the questionnaire. This way the students are free to express their correct perceptions without any inhibitions. The feedback thus obtained is studied and analyzed in order to identify if there are any lacunas. Suggestions for improvement are taken into consideration. Specific complaints shall be addressed. The teachers are personally counseled with regards to the feedback they receive. The IQAC of the institution ensures monitoring all the curricular and co-curricular aspects.

The feedback analysis report consists of

FEEDBACK ANALYSIS

Feedback is very crucial and integral element of teaching-learning process. The college has a continuous teaching -learning evaluation mechanism through a process of feedback collection and analysis as a part of IQAC. Feedback is obtained from all the stakeholders of the institution, viz. Students, Parents and alumni as well as the teachers. All the feedbacks are administered through a questionnaire. The questions range from curriculum design, delivery, methodology, evaluation, use of ICT and infrastructure. The students are not required to disclose their identity anywhere in the questionnaire. FEEDBACK ANALYSIS REPORT
2018-19

Feedback is very crucial and integral element of teaching-learning process. The college has a continuous teaching -learning evaluation mechanism through a process of feedback collection and analysis as a part of IQAC. Feedback is obtained from all the stakeholders of the institution, viz. Students, Parents and alumni as well as the teachers. All the feedbacks are administered through a questionnaire. The questions range from curriculum design, delivery, methodology, evaluation, use of ICT and infrastructure. The students are not required to disclose their identity anywhere in the questionnaire. This way the students are free to express their correct perceptions without any inhibitions. The feedback thus obtained is studied and analyzed in order to identify if there are any lacunas. FEEDBACK ANALYSIS

Feedback is very crucial and integral element of teaching-learning process. The college has a continuous teaching-learning evaluation mechanism through a process of feedback collection and analysis as a part of IQAC. Feedback is obtained from all the stakeholders of the institution, viz. Students, Parents and alumni as well as the teachers. All the feedbacks are administered through a questionnaire. The questions range from curriculum design, delivery, methodology, evaluation, use of ICT and infrastructure. The students are not required to disclose their identity anywhere in the questionnaire. This way the students are free to express their correct perceptions without any inhibitions. The feedback thus obtained is studied and analyzed in order to identify if there are any lacunas. FEEDBACK ANALYSIS

Feedback is very crucial and integral element of teaching-learning process. The college has a continuous teaching -learning evaluation mechanism through a process of feedback collection and analysis as a part of IQAC. Feedback is obtained from all the stakeholders of the institution, viz. Students, Parents and alumni as well as the teachers. All the feedbacks are administered through a questionnaire. The questions range from curriculum design, delivery, methodology, evaluation, use of ICT and infrastructure. The students are not required to disclose their identity anywhere in the questionnaire. This way the students are free to express their correct perceptions without any inhibitions. The feedback thus obtained is studied and analyzed in order to identify if there are any lacunas. Suggestions for improvement are taken into consideration. Specific complaints shall be addressed. The teachers are personally counseled with regards to the feedback they receive. The IQAC of the institution ensures monitoring all the curricular and co-curricular aspects.

The feedback analysis report consists of

- Department wise feedback analysis on curriculum implementation and performance of the teacher given by students.
