Types of Entrepreneurs

re-entrepreneurs

This is the influential stage which appears to serve as a probationary period. It consists of young people between the age group 15-19 years.

Adding Entrepreneurs

This is the development stage. It includes young people in the age group 20-25 years who are in their mid-twenties. These youth probably have acquired some experience, skills and capital to enable them in their own enterprises.

Emergent Entrepreneurs

These emergent entrepreneurs between the age group 26-29 years have attained a higher level of maturity than youth in the lower age groups.
