2. Wrappers to Riches

The Department of English has started the practice of collecting and using the wrappers of household article such as soap, salt, chocolate, pens, etc., for teaching and learning English vocabulary. The use of wrappers of household articles will focus on the benefits of advertisement in learning English language in classrooms and in real life.

The students collect wrappers of different commodities and describe the information given on the wrappers. By describing the wrappers, the students improve their vocabulary, pronunciation and language skills.
